of yourſelf, is the ultimate End, or Point, to which all Human Actions ſhould be directed.

Honeſty is the beſt Policy.

When Tales are round the Country flown,
That any Girl don't know her own;
The People, to preſerve their Store,
Thruſt out the Thief, and ſhut the Door.

There is nothing worth ſtealing; for Truth, Honeſty, and Innocency, are above all Things. Yet there was a little Girl lived by Lady Simpſon's, who could not keep her Fingers to herſelf; but whenever ſhe went by her Ladyſhip's Garden and ſaw ſaw the Door open, run in and ſtole the Fruit. The Gardener knew that ſhe was naughty; and one Day, when her Ladyſhip ſent for the Children, to treat them with Cherries and Sweetmeats, he ſtood at the Door, and after all the reſt were come in, he ſhut her out, ſaying to his Lady, "Madam, this is a naughty Girl, that ſteals Things out of the Garden, and I am ſure you will not admit a Thief into the Houſe." No, to be ſure, ſaid the Lady, let her go crying home, a naughty Jade, and learn to know, that Honeſty is the beſt Policy.

Of taking our Parents Advice.